A Barkeeper Fined $25—Sent On for Registing an Officer.

Pelice-Justice Richardson rested from his labors vesterday and went with one of the Church-Hill Sunday schools on their annual pic-nic. Justice John M. Ryall presided in the Police Court in his stead.

One of the most important cases on the docket was that of William Matthews, who keeps a bar-room on Grace street between Seventeenth and Eighteeth streets, charged with selling liquor on Sunday. Being so situated that he could not come to court, the accused learned from Justice Ryall that he would be fined $25, and he sent that amount to court to the header of the most important cases on the docket was that of William Matthews, who keeps a bar-room on Grace street between Seventeenth and Eighteeth streets, charged with selling liquor on Sunday. Being so situated that he could not come to court, the accused learned from Justice Ryall that he would be fined $25, and he sent that amount to court by the Justice. The ense was therefore disposed of without ever being called. The minimum fine imposed in these cases by Justice Richardson is $50.

John O'Dwyer was charged with being drunk and creating a disturbance on the premises of Cornelius O'Dwyer, and his brother William was charged with interfering with and violently resisting Policeman Butler while in the discharge of his duty. The former was fined $2 and costs, and the latter, who was very recently pisced under bond for twelve months, was sent on to the grand Jury. His babl-bond was declared forfeited.

made Chief. THE OUTLOOK.

It seems that another session of the board will be held soon, and that this question of Chief Engineer will be settled.

Action was suspended night before last so that Captain Taylor might have time to make up his mind.

The Chief elected will be required to give to his official duties all of his time, and to have his headquarters in a central part of the city.

In the "slate" made out for official confirmation and ratification Monday there are a good many changes in the officials of the force, but comparatively few in what may be called the roll of privates.

The members of the board say they mean to be conservative, and that their prime ob-ject is to give to Richmond the best fire de-partment it has ever had.

For the present, at least, all the sessions of the board are secret, and the members are pledged not to reveal the proceedings. MANCHESTER'S CONTRIBUTION. Meeting of the School Board-Per-

Mr. W. B. Bradley left this morning for Norfolk for a few days' recreation. Miss Curry Buchannan, of Roanoke City, syisting Mrs. George T. Blanton. Mr. George Andrews, of Atlanta, formerly of Manchester, is here on a visit. Although the moon was somewhat tardy in putting in its appearance last night the rescursion given down the river by the Young Ladies' Aid Society of the Bain-bridge-Street Baptist chirch, Manchester, was none the less pleasant. The night was one of just that character to make riding on the water refreshing and enjoyable. The Ariel left her wharf at 8 o'clock comfortably filled and made the trip to Dutch Gap and filled and made the trip to Dutch Gap and return in a few minutes less than three hours. The Richmond and Danville Railroad Band very graciously volunteered their services, and rendered many catchy and spirited airs that added much to the occasion. With a little more practice this band will rank among the first musical organizations in the State. Refreshments were served in abundance and partaken of with a decided relish. The young ladies did all possible to add to the comfort of their guests, and they richly merited even greater success than they achieved. Street-cars were in waiting to take the excursionists up town and to Manchester. When Mr. Thomas N. Kendler Murt.

When Mr. Thomas N. Kendler was riding into the city yesterday morning from his farm, Staples's Mill, in Henrico, his horse the fright, became unmanageable, and finally reared and fell, catching the rider's leg under him. After getting up Mr. Kendler remounted his steed and came on down to his store on Main street, but his limb soon began to swell and pain him, and he returned home. He was severely bruised, but his injuries while painful are not thought to be serious.

On Saturday Supreme-Reporter T. B. Lynn, of Indenapolis, Ind., and Supreme-Recorder Edward R. Edwards, of Fremost, Minn.—both officers of the Order of Chosen Friends who had been attending a meeting of the Supreme Council in Washington—arrived in Richmond. They were carefully looked after and entertained by the order here, and last night were tendered a banquet at Pizzini's. The occasion was a very pleasant one. Speeches were made, and the good things laid before them were discussed and partaken of until midnught. The visitors will leave to-day for their
